Africa is growing

Africa, the third largest continent, has seen some solid and sustained economic growth in recent years. Kenya is also enjoying the benefits of this trend: abundant natural resources, large population centres and rising imports and exports. These significant developments are boosting the region's logistics market and international, corporate and governmental investments.

Going with the trend

Kenya and its neighbours such as Uganda, Rwanda, Burundi, Eastern Congo and South Sudan are consumers of goods and services from the up-and-coming countries in the Middle East and the traditional European market as well as from India and China.

Kenya itself is not lacking in products, exporting them worldwide. Whether you're transporting high-tech equipment from Asia into East Africa or fresh cut flowers from Kenya into Europe we adapt to your individual needs and requirements.
