

Logwin expands its global network by opening a branch in Valencia, Spain

Grevenmacher (Luxembourg) - With the opening of an office in Valencia, Logwin is increasing its presence in the Spanish logistics market and investing in the expansion and improvement of its global network.

From September 2024, a team of air and sea freight experts will organize worldwide air and sea freight transports for the Valencia region. Logwin thus offers its customers a significantly improved service in eastern Spain. The office in Valencia is connected to the whole world via the Logwin network. The globally standardized IT system enables smooth processes with a high quality of service in both import and export.

With the opening of the Valencia office, Logwin Air + Ocean is recognizing the importance of the Spanish market and international logistics, especially between Spain and Asia as well as Spain and Latin America. Typical and essential for Logwin is its direct presence with its own resources. This creates commitment and enables the long-term development of country-specific know-how and reliable operational networks.
