

Training excellence. Logwin Austria nominated as "Training Company of the Year"

Grevenmacher (Luxembourg). Training and further education are cornerstones in Logwin's ongoing corporate development. Logwin has now been officially recognised in Austria for its exceptional achievements in training. In November 2018, the Salzburg Chamber of Commerce nominated the company as "Training Company of the Year" in the category of medium-sized companies. The nomination was based on Logwin's traineeship concept and its very positive traineeship record.

In keeping with the Group-wide approach, Logwin Austria focuses on promoting young talent and providing training in forwarding agency, forwarding logistics and operational logistics. At its training academy, Logwin provides fully integrated courses as well as the traditional dual-system training. The aim is to recognise the potential of each individual trainee and to help trainees develop according to their strengths. Joint activities, such as annual trainee days, bond the trainees together as a team, promote social and personal skills and help establish a personal internal network during the training phase.
