

Press release

Strong team performance by Logwin Racers around the globe at the "Wings For Life World Run"

The logistics company Logwin again supported the "Wings for Life Foundation" in 2022 by participating in the annual charity run. With 1,400 registered participants, the Logwin Racers were the world's third-largest team to take part in the international "Wings for Life World Run" with the app - and were even able to increase the number of registrations from last year. A total of more than € 21,000 in entry fees was raised of which 100 percent will go to the "Wings for Life Foundation" for spinal cord research for the treatment of paraplegia.

Grevenmacher (Luxembourg) - Geographically separated, but united in sports and for a good cause: On May 8 at 1 p.m. CEST, the starting gun was fired again around the world for this year's "Wings for Life World Run". Logwin had already participated in this charity running event for the first time in 2019 as part of a flagship run in Munich with a group of employees. In 2021, the Logwin Racers then competed around the globe as one of the largest teams in the international race against the "Catcher Car".

For 2022, Logwin had set itself a special goal: Under the official motto "Run for those who can't", the logistics company wanted to compete in the App Run with an even larger number of participants than the year before and was successful: With 1,400 registered participants from 40 different nations, the commitment of Logwin employees, their families, friends and customers was enormous.

It was especially nice that this year some locations around the globe were also able to make team events out of the run again and many runners met at Logwin locations to participate and run together on site for the good cause.

Internationally committed as a team: As a worldwide charity event, the "Wings for Life World Run" not only provides Logwin with an event for its own employees, but also supports the "Wings for Life Foundation" and its research into the treatment of paraplegia. For the logistics company, social commitment is generally a matter close to its heart: In addition to this international charity run, Logwin also supports other globally active organizations such as "Save the Children" with regular larger financial donations and is also particularly committed to the personal social projects of its employees, which are promoted as part of the internal charity program. And this year the Logwin Racers once again demonstrated their great team spirit across all continents.

About Wings for Life

"Wings for Life" is a non-profit, state-recognised foundation for spinal cord research with the aim of finding a cure for paraplegia. With the help of donations, promising research projects and clinical studies to heal the injured spinal cord are promoted worldwide. Because science agrees: injured nerve cells are capable of regeneration. The "Wings for Life World Run" is a charity event in which donations are generated through the participation fees and the running performance.

At the 9th Wings for Life World Run 2022 on 8 May, 161,892 registered participants from 192 nations in 165 countries started at 1 pm CEST sharp - more than ever before at a running event.
